

Massimo Catusi

My career in aviation started in 2006 when I worked as a Station Supervisor for Eurofly. I later joined Meridiana where I had the opportunity to work as Cargo Manager and as part of the Ground Operations go-team for opening and overseeing the new passengers services. I particularly enjoyed working in Senegal, Ghana and Nigeria.

Currently, I serve as Safety Officer at Milan Bergamo Airport, working as Company Lead Safety Investigator, Reporting Officer, Auditor and Trainer.

I am an associate member of EAAP, Fondazione 8 Ottobre 2001, and I developed a passion for human factors after completing Cranfield University's course in Investigating Human Performance.

I joined ISASI/ESASI to deepen my understanding in investigating safety occurrences through the opportunity to share knowledge with the most experienced professionals in the industry.

During my spare time, I love travelling with my wife and two children who are the fulcrum of my life.

Basketball (Olimpia Milano) and football (AC Milan and Fulham) are my other passions along with my Fiat Seicento and my Vespa.

If elected, I look forward to working with the ESASI committee on promoting aviation safety.
